To Whom This May Concern:

Ceres CERTification of Environmental Standards (CERES) is a United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), National Organic Program (NOP) accredited certifying agent. Furthermore, CERES is authorized to issue USDA NOP organic certification to Crops, Handling, Livestock and Wild Crops operations that comply with Title 7 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Part 205.

CERES' accreditation certificate indicates a renewal date of May 22, 2025; however, its accreditation is in good standing and continues to be valid. USDA NOP granted CERES an accreditation term extension until its accreditation renewal assessment is completed. USDA NOP expects the assessment process to conclude during 2026.

For questions concerning CERES' status, please contact the NOP at (202) 720-3252 or NOP.Guidance@usda.gov.
